How to Play Tworidge

Tworidge is a simple game to learn, but difficult to master. The goal of the game is to be the first player to get rid of all of your cards.

The game is played with a standard deck of 52 cards. Each player is dealt 7 cards. The remaining cards are placed in a pile in the center of the table. The top card of the pile is turned over to start the discard pile.

On your turn, you can play one card from your hand onto the discard pile. The card you play must match the rank or suit of the top card on the discard pile.

If you cannot play a card, you must draw one card from the draw pile. If you draw a card that you can play, you can play it immediately.

The game continues until one player gets rid of all of their cards. That player wins the game.
